LG Park Plan Delayed As LAFCO Continues Hearings

More Information Asked From C.S.A. Supporters

By John Nicholson

The proposed 6-acre park at Mt. Vernon and Massachusetts was delayed this week when the Local Agency Formation Commission continued the matter of a County Service Area until next month.

The proposed park, which would be funded equally by Department of Housing and Urban Development and local money, cannot be constructed until a service area is formed or other local money is secured for purchase of the site, development, and maintenance.

The service area has been proposed as the most practical way of gaining local money.

The story of the proposed park began several months ago with the Lemon Grove Planning Association, which was notified that the site had been selected as one of a few in the county which would qualify for HUD funds under the Legacy of Parks program.

The Planning Association applied for the funds, which were granted, contingent upon the formation of a service area or other method of raising local park money.

The service area was then requested, boundaries were formed, and paperwork was completed, leaving the matter up to LAFCO for approval, rejection, or modification.

The hearing date of December 4 was then announced, and LAFCO staff announced that it recommended approval of the service area.

But when the actual hearing took place, the LAFCO board decided that it wanted more information from the supporters of the measure. Although no opposition was voiced to the plan, and the plan had been endorsed by the Planning Association and other local entities, including the school district, a lack of supporters at the hearing apparently led to the board's decision.

The board instructed LAFCO staff to meet with the local planning association to garner support for the measure at the next hearing, scheduled for January.

The service area is the first of two such plans for Lemon Grove. The second is for the purpose of providing maintenance funds for proposed landscaping along scheduled improvements on Broadway and for landscaping and improvements along the railroad right of way in the town.

The delay of the first matter could have a great deal to do with the second service area, since the boundaries for both are the same.

Since the boundaries for both are the same, it is possible that the two plans could be implemented as one service area, thereby cutting through much red tape and bringing about implementation earlier.

A small amount of paperwork on the second service area prior to this week's hearing, allowed no possibility for combining the two plans Monday.

However, since the matter was delayed, chances are that paperwork for the second service area will be complete by January and the two plans could be put together at the January meeting, should the LAFCO board decide that.

Another possible way to handle the plans are to approve and complete the first service area, then add the second plan at a later date, which would probably mean that the second plan would not be completed for at least six months.

A third possibility is that the LAFCO would keep both plans separate, but not take up the second matter until the first matter is completed. Although it is possible to put both matters through hearings separately but simultaneously, it is doubtful that LAFCO would consider it a good idea.

As in the case of the first service area, the second service area must be approved in order for its project to go ahead. The county has agreed to install the landscaping projects at no cost, but the service area must be in effect to provide maintenance money, or the project would not go through.

Should the project not be installed while the scheduled Broadway improvements are underway, its costs would be much greater, even to the point that they would be prohibitive.

More information on the progress of the service areas is expected to be delivered at the next meeting of the Lemon Grove Planning Association December 14 at 7:30 p.m. in the Golden Avenue School auditorium.

If the service areas are approved by LAFCO, the County Board of Supervisors will hold hearings.

Shop At Home

The other day, directly after a meeting of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, Mike Carlen, the chamber's president noted that business competition is growing stronger in this area.

Carlen, who operates a drug store, is in one of the more highly competitive fields.

"They bombard our residents with circulars to break the loyalty to our home town by sheer force of merchandise and some come-along prices. Those who succumb to the enticement are giving up the very thing they live in a small town for—loyalty," he said.

A newspaper has a responsibility to remind readers often that loyalty is part of the glue that holds small towns together. That loyalty is shown no better than shopping at home. Dollars spent locally are re-introduced into the community in a number of ways. Conversely, an ugly business community begets an unattractive residential community. A starving business community kills off the energy of forces that would give leadership for community betterment programs. A lethargic business community dissolves the character of a town.

As these things become visible, other sectors of the community show signs of deterioration. The social community, the church and service club communities, and even the educational communities lapse into annui.

There is little probablity that the town will go to pot and Carlen was not suggesting that such was imminent, because it is not. But it is perfectly proper to remind residents what effect their shopping habit have on their own community.

It is a fact that a shopper can't satisfy all of his needs here, but by shopping locally, for the things that are available, the business community will become more viable and more shops will stock more merchandise. Then the hometown can come nearer supplying all of the community's needs.

'Mail Early' Is Post Office Plea

"Mail Early" is the annual plea from the post office about this time every year, as local posal patrons send letters, cards and packages for Christmas.

Frenchy Faucher, Lemon Grove Postmaster listed some important dates to remember, lest the gift or card you send arrives at its destination late.

December 7: Surface letters to Canada and Mexico.

December 9: Air parcels to Africa, Asia, and Europe.

December 10: Air parcels to military personnel in Africa, Asia, and Europe. Also, surface parcels to Continental United States outside California. December 11: Air parcels to South or Central America.

December 14: Air parcels to Canada and Mexico. Air letters to Africa, Asia, and Europe.

December 15: Cards to all locations. All local mail.

December 16: Air mail letters to South and Central America.

December 19: Air mail letters to Canada and Mexico.

December 20: Air parcels to United States outside California.

December 21: Air mail letters to United States outside California.

Deadlines not listed may have already passed. Faucher said that every effort will be made to get mail to its destination on time, even though the deadline may be passed, although it can't be guaranteed.

In addition to regular postal services, mail for servicemen can be sent specially under Parcel Air Life and Space Available Mail, although there are restrictions. Contact the post office for details.

Bill Fitzpatrick, Spring Valley Postmaster, listed some tips which will help the mail flow smoothly and insure rapid arrival in one piece.

In addition to "mail early" as the top consideration, he urged postal patrons to zip code everything to insure a rapid arrival during the heavy Christmas load.

A package should contain a list of its contents as well as the name and address of the sender and the recipient, Fitzpatrick said. Sometimes, an address becomes unreadable after extensive handling or it may break apart, with contents lost or scattered. The list can then be consulted, averting the package's arrival at the "dead mail" office.

Another thing to remember about packages, Fitzpatrick said, is to tie it with a sturdy string. Taped packages are acceptable but undesirable, as far too often tape can lose its "stick power", be worn off, or break. Tape and string is the best way.

Addressing packages correctly is also important, he said. Packages should be addressed on one side only, to avoid confusion, and addresses should be written directly on the package with ink. Labels often come unglued and pencil markings are too easy to wear off.

Both Faucher and Fitzpatrick joined in thanking postal patrons for their cooperation and wished everyone in the community a merry Christmas.

DAIRY PRINCESS — Miss Sandra Peltz, of Modesto, who is currently reigning California Dairy Princess, will be in town tomorrow morning for a visit to Mt. Miguel High School. The 19-year old lass, who lists her hobbies as skiing, cooking, tennis, and caring for her own dairy herd, will talk with students and deliver the California Milk Advisory Board's message "Every Body Needs Milk."

Petitions Being Passed On Valhalla Override Funds

Mrs. Lenard Ruth has appointed Chairmen in each of the attendance areas of the Grossmont Union High School District to circulate petitions requesting the Board of Trustees to rescind their action to build Valhalla with tax override funds.

Mrs. Ruth was very active in the campaign to pass the override in 1968. She said the Board is not keeping faith with the supporters of education to use tax override funds for major capital outlays.

Mrs. Ruth was chairman of the Grossmont High School Attendance Area and helped pass the 1968 override. Her attendance area was responsible for the successful election. The tax override passed by only 1,440 votes and her attendance area had a majority of over 1,500 votes.

Mrs. Ruth says the override tax election succeeded because the voters were told the money was to be used for operations and not for capital outlays. Petitions may be picked up from the following local chairmen:

Helix High School: Mrs. H. L. Nottingham, 3810 Costabella st., Lemon Grove, Calif. 92045, 469-6667.

Monte Vista High School: Mrs. John Belt, 4032 Rogers rd., Spring Valley, Calif. 92077, 469-5913.

Mt. Miguel High School: Bennie O'Brien, 1808 Ramon, Lemon Grove, Calif. 92045, 463-8727.

Mrs. Ruth is encouraging the voters to attend the Board of Trustees meeting December 11, at 7:30 p.m.

Dear Santa Claus...

With the over-burdened conditions at the local post office increasing as Christmas nears, this newspaper aids with the process to make sure that Santa receives all of his mail in time.

Instead of sending letters all the way to the North Pole, the post office diverts Santa's mail here, where it is published in the newspaper. That way, when Santa Claus gets his regular edition of the newspaper. he is able to read the requests of local youngsters.

Here are the letters sent to St. Nick this week:

Dear Santa,

I would like a bicycle, with a flower seat. and u plain pants suit. and a Rocking chair. and a txpe writer.

No Santa Sponsored By Local Chamber

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors met last Thursday noon at Pal's Cafe and voted not to sponsor a Santa Claus, approved a nominating committee for next year's board, selected Bob Guest and Joyce Foss as co-chairman for next year's installation dinner, and talked about the chamber-sponsored Christmas Lighting contest.

Rosemary Johnston, who at the October meeting agreed to contact someone to serve as a Santa Claus at local businesses during the holiday season.

Mrs. Johnston reported that she contacted George Pearsol, who had already begun solicitation at local businesses to make appearances. The chamber voted that to sponsor a Santa would be a duplication of effort which would be unnecessary.

In other action, a nominating committee consisting of Bob Russell, Jim Dorman, and Al Woods was selected. It is their job to select chamber members to run for the board of directors.

Directors whose terms expire this year are Don Minnick, Johnny Johnson, Frenchy Faucher, Rosemary Johnston, and Jim Boyd. Minnick and Faucher are not expected to run for re-election.

Once the new board is elected, it will vote on officers for the 1973 term.

Bob Guest and Joyce Foss were appointed co-chairman for the chamber's installation dinner which will be held in March. At the dinner, new directors and officers will be seated.

The board also made plans for its annual Christmas Lighting contest.

In past years, the chamber has asked that those homes to be entered in the contest be identified by either the occupant or a nighbor who wished to nominate a particular home.

This year, however, it was decided to accept nominations as well as judge other homes. In the past, many homes that might have won the contest were not nominated and so were not judged simply because the occupant felt too embarrassed to nominate himself.

Under the new method, outstanding displays would be judged along with those which were nominated, although those persons wishing to be judged should still notify the chamber, lest their display be overlooked. Identification is particularly urged by those living in out-of-the-way areas.

Christmas Burglary Increase Anticipated

Christmas time is gift time for burglars, too.

That's the warning from Lt. Barney Oldham, officer in charge of the Lemon Grove Sheriff's office.

"Each year, during the Christmas holidays, a rash of Christmas gift burglaries occur, Lt. Oldham said. These people watch for packages around the tree — especially in tract homes where the whole living room area can be seen through the front window.

"Usually it is a quick and easy way for a burglar to make money. Even a kid can pop open an aluminum frame tract house door in a matter of seconds," he said..

As a precaution, an outside light should be left on. "Light, and breaking glass, scare burglars," he said.

He also warned that vandals will probably be out again to steal or break outdoor Christmas lights. Sheriff's men will patrol as many streets as more serious duties permit, he added.

Pamphlets on precautions that can be taken against loss by theft are available at the Sheriff's office at 7859 Broadway. Residents may choose from the English or Spanish version.

Explorers Name Squad Leaders

The Lemon Grove Sheriff's Department Explorer Post No. 2187 held its regular semi-weekly meeting Monday night at the Lemon Grove Youth Center on School lane and selected squad leaders and discussed a recent field trip.

The field trip, to the Sheriff's Department's downtown business office, the Lemon Grove business office, and County Jail, was held December 2.

The trip was for the purpose of familiarizing members of the post with facilities at the disposal of deputies and Sheriff's Department personnel.

The post has presently 15 members and is still accepting applications for membership. Goal is 30 members.

Any boy of high school age interested in law enforcement is eligible for membership.

Future activities for the post include a ride-along program with deputies in the field, and exploration of special programs underway by the Sheriff's Department, including the Department's helicopter patrol program.

The next meeting of the post will be December 18 at the Youth Center at 7:30 p.m. All potential members are invited.

Policy Aids School Districts

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The County Board of Supervisors came to grips with the problem of schools in developing areas.

Supervisors have adopted a policy which will recognize the provision of schools as a major portion of the planning-rezoning process, much as the provision of streets and sewers.

The policy covers the unincorporated areas. San Diego

Intoxicated Robber Holds Up Cleaners

An intoxicated robber last week escaped with about $77 taken in an armed theft of a local drycleaning firm.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, A-1 Cleaners, located in the Alpha Beta Shopping Center at Broadway and Massachusetts in Lemon Grove, was robbed at about 1:35 p.m. Friday afternoon.

The suspect, who was described as a white male, 24 years old, standing about 5-7 to 5-8 and weighing about 160 pounds, came into the business, displayed a long bladed chrome butcher knife, and told the clerk, "I'll tell you what I'm going to do. I won't hurt you if you open the cash register and give me all the money".

The suspect then took the money and left the area, head-

New Law Could Aid LG District

SB 90, the state tax shift bill which was approved by the State Senate last week, may have an excellent effect on local school districts, according to Bob Sutton, superintendent of the Lemon Grove School District.

Although there is no guarantee to local school districts that more money will be allocated from the state, Sutton indicated that there will be at least as much as is currently given, with the possibility of more.

The measure will call for a limitation of local property taxes, expected to result in a major tax cut for the average homeowner. Additionally, the property tax exemption will be increased from $750 to $1,750.

In order to cut property taxes, the state will increase the state sales tax from 5 to 6%.

While cutting local property taxes, the state will take over special programs of school districts to compensate for the loss of property tax money.

Included among those programs are health insurance, retirement, and community services, which are now financed through override taxes.

The new law does not meet the requirements of the Serrano vs. Priest Supreme Court decision, which held that the present property tax method of providing funds for education is unconstitutional.

While it does not meet those requirements, Sutton said, it is a step in the right direction and does lay the groundwork for legislation which would meet the requirements.

The law is expected to be beneficial to school districts, especially those districts which have little money, such as Santee. The law would not aid a rich district as much, Sutton said.

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

Some clarification of the Spanish words "hora," "tiempo," and "vez," may be in order because all three of these words can mean "time."

"Hora" is used primarily to express "time" when one speaks of telling the "time" of day or the hour. Thus we may find this word in expressions like "A que hora llega el avion de Mexico?" (At what time does the plane arrive from Mexico?) and "Yo no se la hora de la llegada." (I don't know the time of the arrival.).

"Vez" is a word which expresses "time" in the sense of "occasion." This brings to mind phrases like "Habia una vez un pueblo lleno de dulces." (Once upon a time there was a town filled with candies.) and "La ultima vez que lo vi, el estaba en buena salud." (The last time I saw him he was in good health.).

"Tiempo" means "time" in the sense of a "time period." This may be expressed in phrases like "Hace mucho tiempo que lo veo." (It has been a long time since I have seen it.) and "Eso paso en el tiempo de los Romanos." (That happened during the time of the Romans.) or "Era durante aquellos tiempos." (It was during those times.).

"Con tiempo" literally means "with time" and is used to express "in time." This may be seen in expressions like "Aviseme con tiempo." (Advise me in time.) and "Ahora vamos con tiempo." (Now we are going in time.).

"Al tiempo" is idiomatic for "at room temperature." This is common in Spanish-speaking countries where bottled drinks are sold "al tiempo." Thus we may say "Esta al tiempo." (It is at room temperature.).

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Say "A que hora vamos?" (ah keh OH-rah VAH-mohs) for "At what time are we going?"

Say "Vamos con tiempo de comer." (VAH-mohs kohn tee-EHM-poh deh koh-MEHR) for "We are going in time to eat."

Say "Hace mucho tiempo." (AH-seh MOO-choh tee-EHM-poh) for "It has been a long time."

Say "Le vi una vez." (leh VEE OO-nah VEHS) for "I saw you one time."

Say "Todo esta al tiempo." (TOH-thoh eh-STAH ahl tee-EHM-poh) for "Everything is at room temperature."

Say "Es a la misma hora." (ehs ah lah MEES-mah OH-roh) for "It is the same time."

Monson To Top Stake Conference

Elder Thomas S. Monson, a member of the Council of Twelve of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, will speak at the San Diego South Stake Conference Saturday and Sunday in Spring Valley.

Monson

Participants in the conference, according to Spring Valley Ward Bishop Merlon L. Alcorn, will include representatives of all three wards in the Lemon Grove and Spring Valley areas.

The conference session will be held at 10 a.m. in the Stake Center, 8472 Blossom lane, Spring Valley. The public is invited.

First Baptist Church Plans Yule Banquet

"The King is Coming," will be the theme of a Christmas banquet, scheduled by the First Baptist Church of Spring Valley Dec. 16, at 6:30 p.m., in the church social hall.

Pastor and Mrs. Rod Carver will be chairmen of the event and the dinner will be a Christmas menu.

The dinner is being planned for the entire family, with special emphasis on youth, Mrs. Carver said. She said there will be no charge for the meal, but a box will be posted at the door, so that those who care to "contribute to the Lord," may do so. There will be a guest speaker and special Christmas music.

Reservations are required so that the dinner committee may plan on how much food to prepare. For reservations, call 462-1174 or 466-9813.

The total for Monday was .89 inches, with an additional .49 inches dropping Monday night and Tuesday morning. The rain brought the season's total to a whopping 5.56 inches, as compared to last year's total of 1.74 inches as of this date.

TV Auction Highly Successful; One-Day Sale Planned Saturday

San Diegans responded overwhelmingly to COMBO's first television auction last Wednesday evening by actively bidding on 404 donated items and raising $75,200 to support twelve local cultural and performing arts groups. The result far exceeding the goal that had been set at $51,100.

Phones began ringing within the first minute of the televised auction, and 50 COMBO phones were busy within the first five minutes. Some of the auction items were sold for more than the retail price, a clue that the bidding audience was caught up in the action and excitement of the event. Anyone that bid more than the quote value for an item will be able to deduct the excess from their income taxes as a donation.

The average sale price of all the items was 63 percent of retail or donor value. The 404 items sold were worth $121,290. The average winning bid was $169.

Funds raised from the TV Auction and other COMBO events will benefit the Old Globe Theatre, San Diego Opera Guild, San Diego Symphony Orch., Civic Youth Ballet, San Diego Junior Theatre, La Jolla Museum of Contemporary Art, Ballet of San Diego, San Diego Civic Light Opera, Young Audiences, Civic Youth Orchestra, Southeast San Diego Community Theatre, and Toltecas En Aztlan.

Due to the overwhelming support in donations for the first TV Auction, a third event has been scheduled to sell off all remaining donations not able to be sold within the time limits of the TV Auction. The COMBO Christmas Special, a one-day sale, will be held in the Conference Building in Balboa Park, Saturday.

The sale begins at 2 p.m. and all items will be marked for sale at 30 per cent below the listed retail or donor value. The merchandise will be further reduced throughout the day until all items are sold. The sale will end at 9 p.m.

Chairmen for the COMBO Christmas Special are Mr. and Mrs. George Miller. They will be assisted by 125 COMBO volunteers who will man the fifty display tables in two shifts.

It is estimated that more than 500 items will be sold at COMBO's third event. The items for sale are valued from $5 to $1,000. The sale will be "cash and carry", those persons who buy items will pay for them and take them home that day. Items can be purchased on BankAmericard, Mastercharge or with cash payment.

In addition to sale items displayed on the floor, a special booth will be set up where persons can purchase certificates redeemable for vacation trips, tickets to special events, gift certificates, instruction lessons, services, and other items which need to be scheduled or chosen by the purchaser.

Among the items to be sold will be: furniture, appliances, sports equipment, power tools, vacation trips, theatre parties, tickets to special events, art, antiques, clothes, jewelry, and various packages of lessons and other services. All items except art and antiques are new merchandise.

Trinity Group Offers Party At Hacienda

The Christmas season is off to a good start at Trinity Presbyterian Church, 3902 Kenwood dr., Spring Valley.

Saturday, Dec. 9, the Tars and Spars couples club, together with a few college students, will be going to the Christian Hacienda, near Tijuana, to present a Christmas party for youngsters there.

The group will be taking along clothing, food and special Christmas goodies, for all to enjoy. While there they will do repair work on the buildings.

Also on Dec. 9, the Squareriggers couples club will have its annual Christmas dinner at the church.

Tuesday, Dec. 12, the Women's Association will meet at 9:30 a.m., with the theme being "Christ in Christmas." Installation of officers will be in order, with four of the new officers to be seated: president, Mrs. Nancy Scholder; vice president, Mrs. Joanne Wheeler; secretary, Mrs. Clarissa Bigler; and treasurer, Mrs. Phyllis Lothspeith.

Band Plans Christmas Selections

Christmas selections by the orchestra and band of Lemon Grove Junior High School will be featured Tuesday evening, at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

According to Harry Weisgerber, orchestra director, some selections will be performed by the orchestra, some by the band and some by both orchestra and band.

The program is open to the public.

In other band news, Weisgerber announced that the annual candy sale by members of the instrumental music department was concluded this week.

Prizes to top sellers were donated by local merchants. Money raised in the candy sale go toward defraying band expenses.

Champagne Dinner To Benefit Building Fund

A thousand dollar painting, an antique Persian rug, four silver tea services and a weekend for two at La Costa Country Club are just a few of the prizes offered in conjunction with the champagne dinner and art auction scheduled for Dec. 10, beginning at 5:30 p.m., at La Costa Country Club.

The gala event is a benefit for La Jolla's Temple B'Nai Aron's building fund, according to Rabbi Maurice Idell.

H. A. Anderson, Garage Owner Passes After Long Illness

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Henry A. "Andy" Anderson, 77, of 3217 Buena Vista ave., Lemon Grove. Inurnment followed at Cypress View Mortuary.

Anderson died Thursday at Wilson Manor, a Lemon Grove Convalescent home. He had lived here for 51 years and was a retired auto garage operator. He became ill in 1958 and entered a convalescent home in 1967.

He came to San Diego in 1921, joined the Marines in 1917 and was discharged as a corporal. He opened a garage in a building on Imperial near Lester. Later he moved it a half block north to the corner of North.

About 1928, the Lemon Grove volunteer fire department started using his garage to park the fire engine. Soon he was named fire chief. Later a fire district was formed.

He had learned to fly in Florida when he was 17 years old. After W.W.I he began to buy war surplus Jennies (Curtis JNs) which were still in crates and complete except for the fabric covering. They were hauled to nearby fields where the wings were attached. His wife, Elizabeth, cut and sewed the sheeting used to cover the fuselage and wings. He flew them and he sold them.

Later, he built a garage with a residence atop it on Broadway between Olive and Buena Vista. When he became ill he and his wife moved to a house they owned at 3217 Buena Vista.

Anderson was a member of the Lemon Grove Rotary club since 1936, La Mesa Masonic Lodge 407 F&AM, the Helix High 12 Club, American Legion and the Episcopal church. He was a charter member of the Lemon Grove Men's club.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth, two sons, and a sister.

S. M. Stutz

Masonic services were held last Thursday afternoon at Benbough Mortuary under the aupices of Lemon Grove Masonic Lodge No. 736, F and AM, for Sam M. Stutz, 82, of San Diego, who died November 26 at Knollwood West Convalescent Hospital.

Stutz, a native of Chicago, lived in this area for 55 years and was employed for 58 years as a projectionist for Fox West Coast Theatres until his retirement in 1966.

A member of the Lemon Grove Masonic Lodge, he was also active in OK Ingraham Ship VFW Post No. 1774 as well as the Veterans of World War One, Post No. 240, and was a member of the Projectionists Union Local No. 297.

Interment was in Fort Rosecrans National Cemetery for the WWI vet, who served as a private in the U. S. Army, Company C, 129th machine gun battalion from 1917 to 1919.

Surviving are a brother, Walter R. Stutz, of San Diego, a sister, Mrs. Lillian A. Hiestand, of San Diego, and a foster son, Richard Fox, also of San Diego.

S. C. Thompson

Graveside services were held Tuesday afternoon at Mountain View Cemetery in Beaumont, California, for Sina C. Thompson, 94, of 1638 Watwood rd., Lemon Grove, who died December 2 at Grossmont Hospital.

Mrs. Thompson, a native of Missouri, lived in this area for 30 years. Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Frederick Cullen, of San Diego, Mrs. Lela Chewning, of San Diego, and Mrs. Ermie Moore, of Union City, California; three sons, Elmer Thompson, of Napa, California, Kermit Thompson, of Maryville, California; and Kenneth Thompson, of Inglewood, California; 20 grandchildren, and 31 great-grand children.

J. H. Smith

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at the Little Chapel of the Roses at Glen Abbey Memorial Park for John H. Smith, Jr., 36, of 2803 Central ave., Spring Valley, who was found at his home November 28.

A cause of death is pending pathological tests, according to a spokesman for the Coroner's Office.

A native of Arizona, Smith lived in this area for 32 years and was employed for 15 years as an ironworker with the San Diego Gas and Electric Company. Interment in Glen Abbey Memorial Park followed services, under the direction of Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary.

Survivors include four sons, Danny, John, Gary, and David Smith, all of Spring Valley; two daughters, Carla and Ronnie Jean Smith, also of Spring Valley; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Smith, Sr., of San Diego.

R. L. Brown

Services were held Friday afternoon in the Little Chapel of the Roses at Glen Abbey Memorial Park for Ruth L. Brown, 48, of 8885 Orville st., Spring Valley, who died November 28 at Paradise Valley Hospital.

A native of Minnesota, she lived in this area for 17 years and was employed for 7 years as a sales clerk with the Chula Vista Sears Store. Services were followed by interment in Glen Abbey Memorial Park under the direction of Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary.

Survivors include her husband, Robert Brown; a daughter, Michele Reynolds, of Spring Valley; two sons, Marc, of Chula Vista, and Dennis, of Spring Valley; her mother, Mrs. Leona Emich, of Minnesota; three sisters, Eunice Ernest, of Minnesota, Mrs. Glenna Kohler, of Minnesota, and Mrs. Doris Holtz, of Colorado; and two grandchildren.

K. Breedlove

Memorial services were held Tuesday afternoon at Trinity Presbyterian Church in Spring Valley for Kirk Breedlove, 25, of 9277 Hillside dr., Spring Valley, who died November 30 in an auto accident near a small mining town in Canada.

Breedlove was riding in a car with a companion near the town of Cassiar, British Columbia, when the vehicle skidded on icy roads, ran off the road and pinned Breedlove under the wreckage.

Breedlove, a free-lance photographer, attend Spring Valley Junior High School and graduated from Monte Vista High School in 1965 before going on to California Polytechnic College at San Luis Obispo and later the University of Florence in Italy.

Erickson Anderson Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Breedlove, brothers Kim and Larry Breedlove, all of the Hillside dr. address, and a paternal grandmother, and maternal grandparents, out of the area.

Envelopes were known to have been used in France as early as the 17th century.

Free Films Offered

The films "Christmas Carol" and "Christmas Cracker" will be shown twice Dec. 20: at 10:30 a.m. at the Lemon Grove Library, 7735 Pacific ave., and at 3:30 p.m. at the Spring Valley Library, 1033 Elkelton blvd.

The public is invited to see the films free.

TREE SEEKERS — Members of Mrs. Marlene Wilson's morning kindergarten class at Monterey Heights Elementary School took an exciting field trip last week when they visited a local tree farm for the purpose of securing a classroom Christmas tree. Mrs. Wilson nominated several trees varying in size from three to seven feet in height, then the class voted to select the best one. The class finally decided on a six-foot Monterey pine. The decision was almost regretted when the large tree proved difficult to dig out and extremely heavy, once placed in pot for transport, via bus, back to the classroom.

DECORATORS — The reward of having such a fine tree offset the troubles getting the bulky item on and off the bus. Although the tree had to go in through an emergency exit because of its size, the entire class gave its approval once it was re-located in the classroom, and immediately, youngsters began placing decorations on its branches. The tree, in addition to following yule time tradition, also served as a lesson in ecology to the students. The living tree will be transplanted after the holiday season.

MM Choral Group To Entertain Friday

The Lemon Grove Woman's Club will be entertained by the Mount Miguel High School choral group with a Christmas program at the regular club meeting tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. in the clubhouse, 2810 Main st., Lemon Grove.

Tea hostesses for the traditional Christmas tea, following the last meeting for 1972, are Mmes. C. B. Goldthorpe, D. D. Lairsey, G. W. Schicketanz and Tom Mitchell, according to club president Mrs. E. I. Phares.

21 Scouts Get Awards

An activity-packed evening marked the November meeting of Cub Pack 318. Twenty-one boys received awards and den mothers were honored for undertaking leadership training.

Boys receiving awards were from Den 1: Eric Smith, recruiter patch and denner cord; Steve Brunton, denner cord; Mark Nadeau, assistant denner cord; and Paul Hoobler, Wolf rank, gold and silver arrows.

From Den 2: Jimmy Edwards received a denner cord.

Den 3 awards: Jerry Morgan, denner cord; Todd Howe, denner cord; and Daryl Mix, assistant denner cord.

Den. 4 was represented by Jack Morica, denner cord; Harry Huntsinger, assistant denner cord; and Frank Paule, Bear book.

Webelos achievement awards went to Clay Roberts, 2 year pin; Jay Neuhaus, Aquanaut and athlete; Curtis Willis, aquanaut and 2 year pin; Joe Garcia, outdoorsman and 2 year pin; Chris Mudd, athlete; Jeff Hoagglund, athlete.

Athlete awards were also won by Ken Slaughter, Tony Ferdaise, John Obendorfer, and Ernest Mack.

Bill Robbins received a denner cord, scholar and citizen awards.

An impressive ceremony marked the graduation of Jim Balaban from the cub scout pack. He received the Arrow of Light award and was received into Boy Scout Troop 168 by his new scoutmaster.

The program was climaxed by a turtle race in which the boys competed in heats, coaxing their homemade wooden turtles along a hazard-ridden string course.

Among the cubs, first place was captured by Paul Robbins with Jerry Morgan second and Lee Smith third.

In the Webelos competition Bill Robbins was first, Tony Ferdaise second and Bill Sharp tied with Chris Mudd for third.

LAFRA Unit Meets Tonight

La Mesa Unit No. 139, Ladies Auxiliary to the Fleet Reserve Association, will hold its regular monthly meeting at 8 p.m. this evening in the American Legion Hall, 8118 University ave., La Mesa, according to president Marie Hill.

The group will discuss the feasibility of providing Christmas Admission Packs to approximately 25 women who are patients at VA Hospital in La Jolla. Mrs. Edna Redding is chairman of the project.

Additionally, the ladies will go over plans to provide Christmas baskets to needy families in the area.

In other LAFRA news, vice president Betty Chester announced that members of the unit are meeting Tuesday evenings at her home to work on items for a bazaar table at the group's planned spaghetti dinner in February.

LAFRA president Marie Hill announced that the group will hold its annual Christmas pot-luck December 21 at the America Legion Hall.

Women Voters Plan Talks On Waste Problem

The issues of solid waste management will be discussed at the next round of unit meetings of the League of Women Voters of Grossmont-Cajon Valley.

Many questions will be examined: Should aluminum cans or returnable bottles be used? Should newspapers be saved, recycled paper used, or a disposal tax levied? Should there be bans on polluting goods? What role should the Federal government have in solving the problem of the volume of waste?

The meetings will be held Dec. 12, 13, and 14. The first meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. at Christ the King Lutheran Church, 750 Medford st., El Cajon. Babysitting will be available.

The Dec. 13 meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Ruth Ireland, 6221 Lake Athabaska pl., San Diego. An evening session will be at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Olive Woolridge, 1654 Alpine Tavern rd., Alpine.

On Dec. 14, the meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Cara Tiffin, 333 Vista Del Escuela, El Cajon. Meetings are open to all interested women.

The League has for sale a publication entitled "Recycle?" which is intended for the interested citizen without a background knowledge of the obstacles to recycling.

'Festival of Christmas' At Grossmont College

Crossmont College's Student Center will provide the setting for the "Festival of Christmas," an annual choral concert by the 80-voice Concert Choir and the 22 voices of the Chamber Chorale. Presented by the college's Department of Music, the concert will commence at 8 p.m. Sunday.

This year's "Festival of Christmas" will be highlighted by three works for choir and large brass choir: Vaughn Williams' "O Clap Your Hands," Flor Peeters' "Jubilate Deo omnis Terra" and Ron Nelson's "Fanfare for a Festival."

There will also be musical examples of all periods of music from the Renaissance to the present day, including a three-part suite by Virgil Thomson's "Scenes From the Holy Infancy" which will have incidental solos by Richard Truxell, tenor; baritones, Max Chodos and Richard Franz and basses, David Boyles, David Oldham and John Stephen Hubbard.

The Chamber Chorale will feature several works of a more delicate nature including Christmas madrigals by Williamette Spencer and Maurice Beasley's "The Shepherds Had an Angel" with Linda Pease, soprano and Kit Higginson, alto recorder.

David L. Glismann, director of choral and vocal activities for the college, will conduct both festival groups while Alice Morgan and Heidi Glismann serve as accompanists.

The public is invited and there is no charge for admission.

Griffs Claim Fourth At Tournament

Grossmont College, with a pair of games under its belt, including an upset over San Diego Mesa, traveled to the Bakersfield Tournament last week and finished in fourth place.

The Griffins, led by forward John Slater, romped over San Joaquin Delta, 80-64 in the tourney opener. Slater tossed in 19 points and grabbed 20 rebounds in that contest.

In the semi-final, the Griffs took on a rugged Southwestern crew that featured four returning starters. The young Grossmont team looked sharp for the first three periods, claiming a five-point lead at the half, and a 13-point margin in the third quarter.

But with about 12 minutes to go in the contest, Southwestern's flip-flop defense finally took its toll as the Apaches started to scorch the nets. Grossmont could score but one point while Southwestern ripped off 15 tallies to take the lead for good.

In the final endeavor at the tournament, the Griffs rematched Mesa College, the team the Griffs had upended in the season opener. This time, however, the Mesans were prepared, and the score stood 67-67 at the end of regulation play.

In the five-minute overtime period, Mesa exploded for 20 points by hitting six field goals and adding eight free throws as the Griffs fouled in desperation.

A definite problem has been detected in the Griffin attack and it seems to be a lack of good guard play, particularly on offense. The team has been practicing since Monday to correct the trouble and will meet Mesa for the third time on the season Saturday night at 8 p.m. in the Mesa gym.

Thirty-seven percent of milk purchased by consumers today is in half-gallon containers and 25 per cent is in gallons.

LOCAL DANCERS — Cheryl Flowers, left, of Spring Valley, and Jim Becker, also of Spring Valley, will be among a cast of 125 dancers in 140 roles in the California Ballet Company production of "The Nutcracker" December 15-17 at the Civic Theatre. Miss Flowers will be seen in the role of a soldier, while Becker plays a child in the five productions. Scheduled are evening performances all three dates, plus matinees Saturday and Sunday.

Chicano Films Set

The Lemon Grove Library will present two Chicano films December 14 at 7 p.m. "I am Joaquin" is written by "Corky" Gonzales. "Chicano" tells of three different Chicanos who have been busy doing something for "la Raza."

Everyone is invited to this free showing and free pan dulce (Mexican sweet bread) at 7735 Pacific ave., phone, 463-5982.

The second nuclear generating plant in the northeastern part of the U. S. is to be built at Waterford, Conn.

All-America Candidate To Lead USD Hoopsters

All-American candidate Stan Washington will direct the University of San Diego basketball attack this weekend when the Toreros host Southern California College, Friday, and Chapman College, Saturday. Both games have an 8 p.m. tipoff.

USD opened its 1972-73 season last week with an 84-80 decision over Southern Utah College and the 6-4 Washington paced the offense from his guard position with 27 points.

Washington, leading scorer on the frosh team two seasons ago and the top varsity point maker as a sophomore last year, pumped in 12 field goals and three free throws plus contributing seven assists.

Forward Pinky Smith chipped in with 25 points and 14 rebounds, his freshman brother Kenny Smith aided with 13 rebounds in his first collegiate endeavor and center Ben Thompson also had 13 caroms. USD had a big 63-28 edge in rebounds.

Southern California College invades the Torero court with a front line paced by 6-9 sophomore center Mike Dabney and 6-5 forward Pat Quinn. Six seniors have been graduated but coach Lynn Taylor has three good six-foot guards, John Curtis, Paul Orem and Gerald Waldrip to help with the play-making.

Chapman mentor Dave Weatherill begins his sixth campaign with the Panthers and should easily better last year's won-lost record of 8-18. Two senior 6-6 forwards, Bill Leavell and Norm Stancil, 6-1 guard Roosevelt Samilton and newcomers Randy Skates, 7-0 frosh center, and Jeff Cable, 6-8 forward, are all expected to give Chapman a better season.

Local Crusades Top East County

With only one week remaining in the United Crusaade Campaign, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley drives were still short of their goals, but among the leaders of East County communities.

Spring Valley, at last week's report meeting, indicated that 76% of goal had been attained, while Lemon Grove reported 72% of goal. Spring Valley's total led all East County communities, while Lemon Grove trailed only Spring Valley, El Cajon, at 75%, and Alpine, at 73%.

The strong point for the Crusade was in the North County, where one community had hit 100% and three others were at 95% or better. The South Bay was weakest, where the best total was 67%.

Overall, San Diego County's goal of $6.9 million was 80% attained.

Monarchy Claims CIF Title

Nobody really doubted the outcome of last week's CIF championship cross country meet, as Monte Vista won while taking four of the top ten places.

But a surprising thing happened when, after more than half of the competitors had finished, there seemed to be no fifth man for Monte Vista. At last, in 39th place, Tim Hughes came across the line, and after figures were quickly added, Monte Vista was named the winner.

Long before Hughes could finish, the scores for second place Madison and third place Clairemont had been tallied, and Madison appeared to have a good shot at the title. But Monte Vista's depth came through for the win.

Monte Vista fans had begun to worry after a while, but Hughes finally arrived to set their minds at east. The reason for his off-day performance was a foot injury the week before, which caused him to miss workouts during the week and to run in a hampered style during the race.

Individually, the CIF tour over Morse High School's 2-mile course was all Monte Vista, as Gary Close won the race with a record time of 9:45, six seconds ahead of teammate Mike McGrath.

Tom Wendt finished sixth in 10:05, ten seconds faster than his brother, Dan Wednt, who finished eighth for the Monarchs.

Curriculum Workshop Course Scheduled

A new course entitled Curriculum Development Workshop will be offered at Southwestern College in the spring semester. The course will cover designing and building of toys and equipment for use in all curriculum areas of schools for pre-school children or for parents to use at home for their youngsters.

Special emphasis will be placed on recycling of free materials for children's use and the introduction of multilayered cardboard as a safe, durable construction resource.

Two Local Dancers In 'Nutcracker'

The California Ballet Company has selected two Spring Valley area dancers for roles in their forthcoming production of the "The Nutcracker" to be performed in the San Diego Civic Theatre December 15, 16 and 17 at 8 p.m. and December 16 and 17 at 2:30 p.m.

Appearing as a soldier in the battle scene of this holiday fantasy will be Cheryl Flowers of Spring Valley. The other Spring Valley dancer selected for a "Nutcracker" role is Jim Becker as a Child.

The production features in leading roles Diana Davis, Deborah Hadley, Marlene Jones, Bill Edward and Douglas Hevenor, all experienced and acclaimed San Diego dancers, and guest artist, R. Clinton Rothwell, former principal dancer with the National Ballet of Canada.

This marks the second year the California Ballet Company has presented Tchaikovsky's full-length "The Nutcracker" having played to sold-out audiences in three performances last year.

The cast numbers 125 performers filling 140 roles. All performances will be accompanied by a 45-piece orchestra composed of members of the San Diego Symphony under the direction of guest conductor Michael Zearott of Los Angeles.

Magical effects of the holiday fantasy, which delight young and old alike, include a gigantic Christmas tree, falling "snow," a complete toyshop and a tiny boat made from a walnut shell. They will all be viewed against beautiful, newly-expanded sets.

Tickets are now available at Civic Theatre Box Office and all Metro Ticket Agencies. For information, call 236-6510.

Gulls Face Wings At Arena Tonight

The San Diego Gulls, using their home ice advantage to the utmost, moved their Sports Arena record to 8-2-2 with another solid win over the Portland Buckaroos last Saturday night, 3-0.

The victory was the fourth in six games for the Gulls over Portland this season and was the first shutout of the year for goalie Ken Broderick.

The Gulls have not outscored the opposition 43-18 on home ice, a scoring total that has helped the San Diegans to the 8-2-2 home mark. Going into action this week, the Gulls are 1-5-2 on the road.

After losing in Portland 5-2 and tying Denver 3-3 last week on the road, the Gulls came to San Diego and stopped Portland by the 3-0 score. Nels Venerus, George Swarbrick and Tom Trevelyan accounted for the scoring in the wild affair that saw 90 minutes in penalties called, 44 of those on the Gulls.

Ken Broderick lowered his goals against average to a league leading 2.36 with the shutout. He was forced to make only 15 saves the entire evening.

The Gulls return to action tonight to face the high scoring Ft. Worth Wings. The last time the Gulls and Wings met on November 19 in the Arena, San Diego won handily 8-2. The Wings, however, are the second place team in the Central League and have done well against Western League competition.

Ft. Worth is led by leading CHL scorer Ralph Stewart. The veteran center tied WHL and CHL records earlier this season when he put in five goals in one game against the Portland Buckaroos. The Wings also have goalie Andy Brown, one of the few men in pro hockey who plays his position without the protective mask.

Following the game tonight, the Gulls move over to Phoenix on Friday for a match with the Roadrunners. Then its back to San Diego on Sunday for a game with the league leading Salt Lake City Golden Eagles. Faceoff for that one is 7:00.

The game from Phoenix will air over KOGO Radio 60 with the Voice of the Gulls, John Brooks, beginning at 6:45 with the warmup show. Faceoff will be 7 San Diego time.

Chargers at Denver Sun. For 11 A.M. (TV) Game

Dave Costa returns home to Denver Sunday — for the first time since becoming a Charger.

A refugee from the streets of Yonkers, N.Y., Costa found fame and a new home in San Diego. He was defensive captain of the Broncos from 1967 until he was traded to San Diego for a No. 3 draft choice and running back Eddie Ray last summer.

Costa will lead the Chargers (4-7-1) against the Broncos (3-9) in a game to be telecast over KGTV-10 starting at 11 a.m. It will also be broadcast over KDEO and the Charger radio network.

"I haven't seen my two boys, K.C. and Doug, since Aug. 1," said Costa this week as the team prepared to fly to Denver. "Otherwise it won't be anything special to play in Denver. I always play as hard as I can, no matter what team we're playing."

Then Costa added: "After 10 years, four teams and seven coaches, I have found happiness in San Diego."

If Costa is pleased with San Diego, the Chargers are delighted with Costa. Said his line coach, Walt Yowarsky:

"He is an excellent team player, works hard and hustles, strong and quick for his size (6-1, 250), easy to coach, a fine competitor, a real pro."

Costa ranks second to Deacon Jones as leading tackler among Charger linemen with 61 to 63 for Jones. He has five quarterback sacks. "Watch him," said Coach Harland Svare, "He is always putting pressure on the quarterback. He is always in there."

While Costa earns the defensive spotlight for San Diego Sunday, Mike Garrett will be the man to watch on attack. The Charger Super Scooter needs 33 yards to reach the 1,000-yard milestone for the second time in his seven-year career. He gained 1,087 yards for the Kansas City Chiefs in 1967.

Only Charger ever to achieve a 1,000-yard rushing season was Paul Lowe. The present San Diego shopping center executive did it twice with 1,010 yards in 1963 and 1,121 in 1965.

Garrett also has a long shot at the AFC rushing championship. With 967 yards, he ranks third and 67 yards behind his fellow USC alumnus, O. J. Simpson (1,034). Larry Czonka of Miami is second with 1,016. Defending champion Floyd Little of Denver is eighth with 781.

A 145-yard performance by Garrett was not enough for the Chargers last Sunday as they lost to the Oakland Raiders, 21-19, before a record crowd of 54,611 at San Diego Stadium. The Chargers ran off 80 plays, made 26 first downs, gained 440 yards, converted on 13-of-19 third down situations, punted only once . . . and lost.

Denver also suffered a tough defeat, 23-20, to the Chiefs at Kansas City. Under new coach John Ralston, the Broncos have added a new offensive dimension in the passing of veteran quarterback Charley Johnson to new receivers Rod Sherman and Haven Moses to compliment the great running of Little.

With wins over Oakland and Los Angeles, Denver will seek to revenge its worst loss of the season Sunday. The Broncos were jolted by the Chargers, 37-14, at San Diego on Sept. 24.

San Diego leads the series, 17-6-1, but has not won at Denver since 1968. The Broncos won there in 1969 and 1971; the teams tied in 1970.

GARRETT PURSUES GRID LEGENDS

Goodbye Marion Motley. Hello Gale Sayers. Watch out Paul Lowe. Here comes Mike Garrett!

With a seven-year career total of 4,950, Garrett of the San Diego Chargers has entered the Pro Football Hall of Fame's hallowed list of the "Top 20" rushers.

Garrett, 5-9, 190, supplanted Cleveland's giant fullback, Marion Motley, in the 20th position. He trail's Chicago's immortal Gale Sayers by only six yards. In hailing distance is San Diego's own career leader, Paul Lowe.

RECORD CROWD

The crowd of 54,611 at Sunday's game between the Chargers and Oakland Raiders at San Diego Stadium was the second time the Chargers set a 1972 home attendance record. Previous high was 54,533 against Kansas City on Oct. 29. That broke the record 54,050 against Minnesota on Dec. 5, 1971.

Padres Acquire Dave Marshall From N.Y. Mets

The Padres acquired left-hand hitting outfielder Dave Marshall from the New York Mets in a trade that sent relief specialist Al Severinsen from the Hawaii roster to the Mets farm team at Tidewater, N.Y.

Marshall, 29, hit .2550 for the Mets last season while appearing in 72 games. He had four homers.

Marshall, who in four seasons with New York contributed three pinch hit homers and four grand slams, was acquired by the Mets from the Giants on Dec. 12, 1969 along with Ray Sadecki for Jim Gosger and Bob Heise.

He originally had been signed by the California Angels in 1962 off the Long Beach City College campus and dealt to the Giants in the winter of 1965 for shortstop Hector Torres.

Marshall, 6-1 and 190, played three seasons with the Giants, 1967-69, appearing in 110 games in 1969 and driving in 33 runs with a .232 batting average.

A premier pinch-hitter for the Mets, Marshall led the club in this department in 1971 when he was 8 for 36.

He lives in San Mateo.

OUT OF BOUNDS — Mt. Miguel's jumping-jack forward Mark Dobransky (55) tips a would-be rebound away from Chula Vista's Rick King while King's teammate Miguel Casabosch (51) looks on. The ball sailed out of bounds, but off the fingertips of King, giving the Matadors the ball. Dobransky tossed in a total of 20 points to lead his team to a 63-58 victory over the visiting Spartans.

Matadors Open Season With Win Over Spartans

Bob Holms, in his debut as coach of the Mount Miguel basketball team, took a step in the right direction last Friday night, and ended a good deal of his worries.

Holm, who took over the reigns this season after Dwight Teater was forced to give up coaching the bucket brigade because of medical problems, was worried about injuries which threatened to slow down the team, and about putting a team together on short notice.

Holm had to get some of his potential stars into shape in one week after they finished football and water polo seasons. The players were delayed in joining the basketball team because the Matador football and water polo teams made the CIF players, lengthening those seasons.

Three members of what is expected to be Mt. Miguel's starting five came from the football team, and two of them were injured. Mark Dobransky and Jess Jenner, both injured during the football season, played during the game, and late football star Gary Klusman opened the game at center for the Matadors.

Steve Soloman, who was with the Matador water polo team, also saw action.

The injury problem was all but resolved, as Dobransky, who was bothered by a shoulder injury, pumped in 20 points to lead all scorers and Jenner, who was knocked out of his quarterback role with the grid team by a back injuy, saw limited action after getting clearance from his

Monte Vista Looks Good

Miguel Hopes For Third Straight CIF Title Dim

The 1972-73 wrestling season got underway for local high schoolers last week, and things looked dim for Mt. Miguel's defending CIF champions in their quest for a third straight CIF title.

Mt. Miguel was hit hard by injuries and a lack of time this season, as two top rated wrestlers are out with injuries and several standouts reported late because of the school football team's participation in post-season playoffs.

On the injured list are Dave Morgan, a CIF runner-up last year who's leg is in a cast. He'll probably miss the entire season. Also on the casualty list is Paul Hardin, another CIF runner-up who injured a knee and will be out about another month. The season will be well underway before he is expected to be ready to wrestle.

On the football late list are Miguel Cesena, a CIF champ last year, as well as sturdy performers Chris Palozzolo and Dan Allen.

The skeleton team remaining for Coach Ned Blass included several sophomores and juniors at last week's San Diego Tournament at Patrick Henry High School.

Mt. Miguel has been a slow starter for the past two seasons, but has progressed tremendously during the season to claim CIF titles. With this year's team loaded with juniors and sophomores, it will be at best a long uphill battle to another crown.

Making matters worse for Mt. Miguel are a pair of class teams in Monte Vista, last year's CIF runner-up, and Orange Glen, a team that has come on strong the past couple of years and looks mighty tough this year.

Mt. Miguel's skeleton team fared poorly in the Patrick Henry Invitational Tournament last Friday and Saturday, while a good group of Monte Vista grapplers ran away with second place.

Monte Vista will be the team to beat in the Grossmont League, coming into the season with a pair of CIF champions returning, as well as a number of young wrestlers who are ready to win.

Monte Vista's problems the past two years have been late in the season, when key wrestlers have been upset. A fast starting team, Monte Vista has claimed Grossmont League titles the past two seasons and has beaten Mt. Miguel in dual meets, only to be foiled in CIF play.

With Mt. Miguel seemingly out of the running, and tradition on its side, Monte Vista could have its year.

Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista have alternated as CIF champs for the past eight years, with Monte Vista claiming five titles and Mt. Miguel claiming three of the last five.

County Bar Names 5

The San Diego County Bar Association has elected five attorneys to its 16-member board of directors for three-year terms.

Named at-large delegates were Maurice V. Boudreau, 48, El Cajon, of the firm of Schall, Butler, Boudreau & Gore; C. Hugh Friedman, 41, San Diego, Friedman, Heffner, Kahan & Dysart; Mrs. Artie G. Henderson, La Jolla, Huntington, Bryans, Harper, Henderson, Burney & Newman-Crawford, and J. Lawrence Irving, 37, San Diego, Jones, Tellam, Irving & Estes.

The new directors were selected from a slate of 34 candidates by the association's 1,600 members.

Schrade's Funeral Bill Defeat Seen as Boon to Consumer

"The defeat of the Schrade funeral bill is a victory for representative government," said Thomas B. Weber, president of Telophase Society.

"The voice of the consumer has been heard by our representatives in the assembly," he said. "The failure of the funeral industry to promote this bill is a clear victory for those who want low-margin cremation services."

"Now, people concerned with the high cost of funerals can make arrangements with services such as Telophase to dispose of remains with security that there will be no oppressive measures," Weber said.

First Male 'Nudie' Calendar Produced By La Mesa Designer

NUDIE CUTIE — Jill Timm, attractive 24 year old graphic designer of La Mesa, looks over the first press proofs of Au Naturel, a male nude calendar which she has created. The new calendar, which features San Diego area men in settings around the county, is now available in area gift shops and bookstores. One of the first male nude calendars in the country, and the first in Southern California, Au Naturel is described as "presenting natural men in natural settings."

by Max Goodwin

A pretty, 24-year old La Mesa graphic designer, Jill Timm, has just entered the "skin" publishing field with an all nude, all male 1973 calendar.

Taking a leaf from the centerfold favorite, Bert Reynolds, she has collected outdoor pictures of 13 college age bucks (the extra one is on the cover) and presented them handsomely in "Au Naturel".

The calendars, the first ever produced here, are currently on sale for $3 at area bookstores and gift shops.

The pictures are solo shots of 18-24 year males and they are not pornographic. As Miss Timm explains "they are shots of natural men in natural surroundings". Each subject has his arm, hand or leg so positioned as to avert being naughty. All of the pictures were shot by Miss Timm in nearby country settings.

Miss Timm placed an advertisement for nude, male models in San Diego State's daily newspaper, The Aztec, and more than 60 males responded. After a telephone screeneing she interviewed the rest personally. Some were dropped because they would not be photogenic. Others were rejected because they were similar in appearance to others already chosen.

"I wanted variety," she said.

700 Shots

She shot approximately 700 pictures, all in nearby San Diego County locales. "During the beach shot (June) a wave knocked over my model and me. The water soaked my camera and goose-bumped the mdel. That setting was just below USI University on Pt. Loma and we attracted an audience of USIU students. But my model didn't seem to mind — until the wave hit him," she said.

In another setting, near Harbison Canyon, both Miss Timm and her model got poison oak. Less eventful locales included Poway, Julian Ramona and Green Valley Falls.

The calendar is printed in sepia — a warm brown, and is attractive. "I chose sepia because it gives good body tones," Miss Timm aid. "But next year's edition will be in full color because I'll have enough time for that. I'll also have a wider variety of models. If I were to be critical of my first calendar I'd say it had too many men with dark hair and mustaches."

Middle-Ager Eyed

"I might even put in a middle-aged man. He would appeal to a certain element," Miss Timm said looking me squarely in the eye. "Are you interested?"

"My birthday is in April," I blurted. "How much does it pay?"

"$20 or 1% of the profits," she said, not changing her professional attitude.

The vision of Henry Kissinger in the Harvard Lampoon centerfold and a vision of my family gathered ecstatically around the calendar hanging on the wall on the first day of April, 1974, helped bring the interview back into focus. But only after it dawned on me that she meant to ask would I be interested in the news fact that at least one model would be middle-aged.

"What impelled you to do a male art calendar," I asked Miss Timm escaping from my own entrapment. Whew!

"I got the idea from a clipping my parents in Sunnydale sent me. I decided San Diego fellows and San Diego scenery would be better than anything anyone else would publish. So I called some friends to see how difficult getting models would be. Nearly all were willing. Then I borrowed most of the $2,000 start-up money I needed from my father and now there are 3,000 of my calendars on the market.

"I view the purchases of Au Naturel calendars as girls 18-35 years of age. The male models will probably buy some. And a lot of guys will buy them for Christmas presents, too. There's no question about the success of the venture. Enough have been purchased already to assure that. The problem is getting them properly distributed to the sales points," she said.

No One Objected

Miss Timm said that none of the males objected to posing in the nude during the telephone interviews. Only a couple of the calls were obscene probably as the result of shock when a female answered their call.

In spite of the restricted sales points, Miss Timm expects to place a reprint order soon.

Why such optimism? "Each model is handsome, each in a different way," she said. "And I field-tested the pictures before deciding which ones I'd use." She tested the pictures on the girls in her sister's dorm at San Diego State. The model drawing the most favorable comments was used as January. He is about 24 with brown bushy-curly hair with a mustache. He is pictured crouched, ape-fashion, on a rock, framed by a branchless tree limb.

Miss Timm came to San Diego several years ago to attend a graphic communication class at State. Then she opened a design firm in her Spring street home — a home she shares with two other girls.

As a result of her apparent success she expects to eventually open a full-service studio, complete with a staff of artists and a crew of photographers. With her unfettered imagination, it is likely to be as successful as she wants.

Our meeting left me with a feeling of pride. How many newsmen have ever had the inferred opportunity to adorn a male, nudie calendar? For the month of April? By a pretty girl? That having been settled, we'll set the scene. Take a field of wheat — shoulder high of course.

EXPLORAMA FILM—"Mark Twain In Switzerland" an award winning, feature-length, color travel-adventure-documentary film will be narrated in person by its producer Dick Reddy at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday at the Civic Theatre in San Diego. The program is being presented under the auspices of Explorama as a special. Reserved seat tickets at $3.75, $3.50 and $3.25 are now available at all Metro Ticket Agencies, Highlander Stores, and the Civic Theatre Box Office.

Amateur Country Music Contestants Sought by KSON

A new country western music star will emerge from this year's KSON Country Star which will be held at the Civic Theater the evening of January 13.

KSON will feature the finals of a County-wide talent search for new country and western artists — performers classified as amateur because they have yet to make it big.

According to KSON President Dan McKinnon, the talent contest is open to any Californian who has earned less than $1,000 as a performer. It is also open to those in the military based here.

He says application blanks can be obtained at western wear stores and many music and record shops throughout the County as well as the KSON Studios or by calling KSON.

There is no charge for entering.

To the winner of the talent contest goes an audition with Capitol Records and a chance to perform on the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Tennessee.

"Every performer or act that enters our contest," says McKinnon, "will be given an audition January 3 through January 6."

The field will be cut to 15 finalists who will participate in the finals on the evening of January 13. A distinguished panel of music industry judges will select the talent winner from the 15 finalists. Deadline for applications is August 11.

KSON has also opened the talent search to amateur country western song-writers. The winning original song will be played by a live country music artist and band at the Country Star Amateur Show on the evening of January 13 at the Civic Theatre. Winner of the songwriting contest will have an audition with a prestigious music publishing company.

Hoop Tourney Planned

The Annual Basketball Tournament for boys 15 and under will begin its five day streak at 6 p.m., January 8, at the Southcrest Park and Recreation Center.

Trophies for first, second, and third places will be awarded. The first 16 teams to apply will be accepted. The entry fee is $3.50 per team.

Entrants should send their names and ages to Southcrest Park, P.O. Box 13212, San Diego, Ca. 92113.

Y Plans Crafts Day

The Heartland YMCA serving the East County is planning a Junior and Senior High Christmas Crafts Day December 10 and 11. Students can come to one or both of the activities.

The cost for each of the craft days is fifty cents to cover cost of materials. Participants will make such decorations as breadflowers and decoupage.

Zearott Debut Tonight, Friday

Guest conductor Michael Zearott will make his debut with the San Diego Symphony Orchestra tonight and Friday at 8 p.m. at Civic Theatre in an all-orchestral program.

Zearott was awarded the First Prize Gold Medal in the 1969 Dmitri Mitropoulos International Competition for Conductors in New York — the first American so honored in five years.

After receiving the first Ph.D in Composition ever awarded by UCLA, he continued his studies at the International Course for Conductors of the Netherlands Radio Union with Franco Ferrara and Jean Fournet, at the Academe Internationale d'Ete with Hans Sworowsky, and at the Conservatory "Santa Cecilia" of Rome with Ferrara.

Tickets for the Dec. 7 and 8 programs, as well as future San Diego Symphony Orchestra events, are available at Civic Theatre and all Metro Ticket agencies. Students, military personnel and senior citizens may purchase any remaining ticket for $1.50 one hour before performance.

Employee Selection Seminar On Tap

Employee testing and selection standards which have been set for employers by the federal and state government to assist in the hiring and upgrading of minority workers will be discussed at a half-day seminar in San Diego, December 7.

The meeting is being held by the Technical Advisory Committee on Testing to the California Fair Employment Practice Commission. It will start at 9 a.m. in Room B-109, State Office Building, 1350 Front st.

MM Poloist Is Player Of Year

Mount Miguel and Monte Vista dominated the Grossmont League's Water Polo All-League team which was announced this week.

Mt. Miguel placed two men on the elite team, while Monte Vista claimed three spots on the seven-member team. Leading the way was Steve Soloman, from the league champion Mt. Miguel squad, who was named player of the year for the league.

Joining Soloman, one of the county's top scorers, on the honorary team was teammate Stan Ingraham.

From Monte Vista, Dave Jordan, Jim Millovich, and Neil Massee claimed spots on the team. Rounding out the selections were Steve Piszkin, of Granite Hills, and Steve Smith, of Grossmont.

Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista each placed one man on the second team. Mark Richmond represented the Monarchs, while Mt. Miguel placed Allan Nunez on the team.

Attaining honorable mention were Marty McClelland and Kevin McKinzie, from the Matador team, and Jim Greene and George Dall from Monte Vista.

Off-Highway Vehicle Fees Distributed

State Controller Hugh Flournoy announced that California cities and counties have received a total of $140,202 from the state in lieu of local property taxes on off-highway vehicles which now must be registered with the state.

Flournoy said the November distribution of $41,858 was the second apportionment since the off-highway vehicle registration program began July 1.

doctor only hours before tip-off.

After Holm got his problems ironed out as to who could play, the team was able to go about a most important task: that of winning the opening game over Chula Vista.

Holm was successful there, as his charges triumphed, 63-58. The game was even during the first half, as Mt. Miguel started slowly, but made up the deficit to lead, 13-11 after the first quarter. Miguel led by one point as the second half got underway, but the steady shooting of Dobransky plus support from Klusman, Mark Guynn, and Bob Balderas proved too much for the visiting Spartans.

Mt. Miguel took a three-point lead into the final stanza and enlarged it to five points by the end of the contest.

LG Coed Gets Nurse's Cap

A Lemon Grove coed is among 62 others who recently took their first important step toward completion of the R.N. degree in a traditional capping and dedication service at Pacific Union College.

She is Diane Zumwalt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Zumwalt, and a 1971 graduate of San Diego Academy.

Following the end of this school year in June, Diane will continue further study on Pacific Union College's extended campus at the Glendale Adventist Hospital in Southern California. After graduation in June, 1974, she will be eligible to write State Board examinations, and upon passing, will receive her R.N. degree.

The nursing program under which the 63 students are enrolled is a department of Pacific Union College, a fully accredited, four-year, liberal arts college operated by the Seventh-day Adventist Church. PUC's enrollmene this year is 1,900.

Monarchs Drop Opening Games

Monte Vista High School's young but aggressive basketball team lost twice last week to open the pre-season prep hoop season.

The first endeavor for the Monarchy was against Hoover last Tuesday night.

The Cardinals rushed away in the first half as Monte Vista shooters couldn't find the range. At halftime, Hoover held a nine-point advantage, and it would have been worse except for the efforts of junior guard Richard Ridgway, who is developing into the best Monarch scorer.

Monte Vista still couldn't hit as Hoover jumped away to a 16-point lead midway through the third quarter, but then Ridgway started buring the nets with outside shots.

The Monarchs, sparked by Ridgway's aggressive play, closed the Hoover margin, to a single point.

The Monarchs couldn't keep the rally going, however, and Hoover moved out to a ten-point lead as the game ended after the Monte Vista shooting went cold.

In its second effort, Monte Vista visited the La Jolla gym Friday.

After falling behind badly in the first quarter, the Monarchs came alive and closed the gap to one point at half-time. In the third quarter, La Jolla beefed up the lead again, but Monte Vista came charging back in the final period.

It looked as though the rally would last long enough this time, as Monte Vista closed the gap to two points with 40 seconds to play.

The Monarchs got off a shot at that point that would have tied the game, but when it missed, the team turned in desperation to fouling, and the Vikings upped the margin to 56-49 as the game ended.

With two games under its belt, Monte Vista has found a slight problem in the shooting of Rick Baker, who has yet to hit for double figures. Baker, last year's second leading scorer for the team, could bag only five points in the first game and eight in the second.

Should Baker get back into his usual groove of 15 points per game, the Monarchs could be a team to reckon with.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I have recently learned that Lemon Grove's Youth Center is facing a financial crisis and will probably close.

This is indeed a sad commentary on our life and times. The closing will come at a time we waste so much money on shamefully useless things and things far less important than care and guidance for our youngsters. The Youth Center's operation is more vital to this area than most people realize.

It administers to more than 50 youngsters each day it is open. These youngsters (and others like them) will again become street people. They'll have nowhere to meet except street corners and nothing to do except explore avenues that lead to trouble.

I am told that the Center could be kept open on its present two-days-a-week schedule for about $300 a month. That averages $10 a day each month. Past history of the Center proves that most youngsters who attend there eventually seek employment and otherwise re-enter the mainstream of society from which they had partially withdrawn.

I am enclosing this check for $50 to be used for Youth Center expenses. If the Center is kept open I will underwrite $50 a month for its expenses. This is being done in expectation that others, either as individuals or through clubs, churches, groups, businesses or other organizations, will also want to help.

Such expenditures are tax deductible. Kids are worth whatever it costs to save them.

I am hoping you will permit contributions to be cleared through your office in order that a year-around movement can be organized. Many people are concerned and want to help our youth. This is one way they can become involved.

Thank you
A Concerned Parent

If the Youth Center does not close, contributions can be made to the YC board of directors c/o Len Farness, Len's Men's Wear, 7763 Broadway, Lemon Grove. Your letter and contribution, and others like it may encourage the board to keep going. Board members have done an outstanding job — more often than not they have kept the Center open by paying bills out of their own pockets. But projects such as this need community-wide support. Perhaps your interest will have triggered new interest. The Editor

'Gulliver's' Q's Due Home Tues.

Gulliver's travels were like a stroll around the block compared to professional basketball.

Take, for example, the San Diego Conquistadors located in the most southwestern city in the continental United States.

Within a span of 26 days the Qs will have faced the Eastern Division leader, Carolina four times, Kentucky, and the Qs chief challenger in the ABA Western Division, Denver three times each, ABA champion Indiana, and hot-handed Virginia twice each, and Western Kingpin Utah in a single game at Salt Lake City.

Over that span the Qs will have traveled 12,388 miles, drag their weary bodies through 24 airports, fly to or pass over 27 states, eat 330 aerial meals, sleep in 11 different hotels, make 44 trips in 132 taxies, wrap their ankles with nearly half mile of adhesive tape (2,475 feet) and had 158 uniform cleanings.

They will have been paid $7,410 in per diem expenses and the 26-day stint will have cost the Qs an estimated $90,388 in travel, hotel, salaries for players and staff and miscellaneous expenses.

Gulliver got by for far-less! But happiness is having the Qs home. They'll return to Peterson gym Tuesday to face Denver at 7:30 p.m.

Otay Water District Eyes S.V. Fire Dept.

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The reorganization of the Bonita-Sunnyside Fire Protection District to make it a part of the Otay Municipal Water District got mixed reactions on Monday.

The item was before the Local Agency Formation Commission and the action taken was to delay the action until Jan. 15.

Ray Hersh, former board member of the Bonita district board, said he believed that what was really needed was a county-wide fire district, not a take over by Otay.

This idea has been proposed before and has not gotten anywhere.

There was also discussion Monday about Otay also taking over the management of the Spring Valley Fire Protection District, but this was not more than passing remarks.

Tickets Go On Sale For Andy Williams Open

Advanced ticket sale for the sixth annual Andy Williams San Diego Open golf tournament on Feb. 13-18 will be kicked off on Monday at over 300 locations in San Diego County.

Daily and season tickets for the Feb. 15-18 Open and preceding Celebrity Pro-Am will be sold at reduced rates through Feb. 12, according to Jim Fox, director of ticket sales. Advance sale prices will be $3.25 for weekdays, $5 for weekend days and $17 for season. Children under 12 will be admitted for $1 any day if accompanied by an adult.

The tourney will be held at Torrey Pines except for half of the Pro-Am on Feb. 13 set for La Costa Country Club.

The Salk Institute and the San Diego Country Junior Golf Association are beneficiaries of the event co-sponsored by the Century Club of San Diego and Andy Williams.

Paul Harney is expected to defend his title against the top names in the world of golf. Previous winners have been George Archer, Pete Brown, Jack Nicklaus, and Tom Weiskopf.

Ticket sale locations:
Village Liquor, Lemon Grove
Stanley Andrews, Broadway and College, L.G.
Walker-Scott, College Grove
First National Bank, Lemon Grove
S.D. Trust and Savings Bank, Lemon Grove

Monte Vista Plans Pair of Comic Films

The Monte Vista High School Drama Department will present two comic films December 14 and 15 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 1003 on campus.

"What's Up Tiger Lily" is a Woody Allen film in which a real Japanese spy thriller film is redubbed with a comic commentary. W. C. Fields film "The Fatal Glass of Beer" is a ten minute classic.

Admission is 75 cents, and the public is welcome.

Closing of Youth Center Eyed As Operating Funds Dry Up

The Lemon Grove Youth Center this week faced closing down as funds from various service clubs and private donors dried up.

The Center administers to 25-80 youngsters who are without other places to gather, except public streets.

At the Center they meet on Saturdays and Sundays with Dale Wood, the director in charge. "They play ping-pong, shoot basketballs and sit around and talk," Wood said. He said that talk is important to them. In most cases they come from broken homes or homes where both parents are working and guidance is at a minimum.

Len Farness, nominal spokesman for the YC Board of Directors, said Tuesday that the Center would be closed for "at least the holidays". He expressed hope that others would participate financially to keep it going.

Others on the board include Frank Shughrue, banker, Verna Quinn, secretary and Karen Thomson, treasurer.

"We need at least $300 a month just to pay rent, taxes and a minimum pay for a director. Service clubs and individuals had been meeting some of this expense. Equipment has been donated.

A subscription campaign has been conducted by this newspaper over the past months to provide the Center with 50 cents for every new subscription. This campaign will continue to help meet outstanding obligations of the Center and until it is ascertained whether the Center will re-open.

The suspect was seen earlier at a nearby discount gasoline business, as well as in other shops in the shopping center. All who came in contact with him indicated that he was intoxicated, possibly with drugs.

The suspect wore shoulder length brown hair, had brown eyes, wore blue jeans and a dirty white T-shirt with numerous holes in it.

A check of the area turned up two possible suspects with similar descriptions, but they proved to be high school students walking home from school.

Norton Fights Wed.

Kenny Norton, San Diego's premiere heavyweight will fight Charlie Reno Wednesday night at San Diego's Coliseum, 15th and E.

Fights will start at 8:30 p.m. Al Couppee will broadcast the main go.

Dave Love, popular and classy middleweight, will also be on the Wednesday card, according to Lou Lake impressario for Knockout promotions.

Norton registered a 10-round knockout over former state heavyweight champ Henry Clark last month at Lake Tahoe on the same card with Muhammad Ali.

Colorado recognizes the columbine as its state flower.

FOCUS ON YOUTH — The San Diego County Department of Public Welfare, student volunteers from San Diego State, and Pacific Southwest Airlines teamed up this week to provide a tour of PSA's facilities for twenty-five children aged 6 to 13. The volunteers were part of the Focus on Youth Program of the Welfare Department. They work with children on a one-to-one basis as tutors or "just friends". Young men interested in serving as big buddies are urgently needed. Contact Volunteer Services, Adoption Center, at 279-8300.

SD Federal's Trees To Be Transplanted

San Diego Federal's Christmas spirit will live on in the Camp Coochama Memorial Forest.

The savings and loan association has announced its support of a unique living-Christmas tree program being coordinated by the local Boy Scout Council and Green Pine Acres in Santee.

Green Pine Acres, a tree farm, will supply the Association's local offices with fully mature Christmas trees raised from seedlings in containers. At the end of the holiday season, the trees will be picked up by the tree farm and taken to the Boy Scout Council's 700-acre Camp Coochama, east of Jamul, where they will be planted in the memorial forest. Some 2,000 trees are needed to complete the forest.

Free License Offered In Dog Spay Program

A certificate good for a $9.50 two-year San Diego County dog license will be issued free to every female dog spayed at one of the several low-cost, neighborhood spay and neuter clinics, according to Dr. Hubert Johnstone, County Veterinarian.

The surgery, done at or near cost by private veterinarians, is a cooperative effort with the County.

"The free license makes this a very attractive deal," according to Johnstone. In comparison to a successful animal population control program in Los Angeles, he said San Diego County's combination of spaying and licensing is even less expensive.

The spay and neuter clinics are located throughout the entire County with all prices being comparable.

Information and referrals to a nearby clinic may be obtained by calling 278-9200 weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Aztec Footballers Feted

Isaac Curtis, Aztec's wide-receiver, was named most valuable player Tuesday night at the Aztec's annual football awards banquet at the Sports Club at the Stadium.

Center Chris Miller and defensive lineman Randy Bixler also received awards.

Quarterback Bill Donkers and linebacker Bill Ferguson were named co-captains. Ferguson also got the team's most inspirational award.

The banquet was a sell-out and some fans were turned away.

Policy Aids School Districts

City Schools fall under the provisions of City Policy 600-10, a similar measure.

The new policy requires subdividers to negotiate with school districts for cash payments, roads, land acquisitions, or school sites.

The Lemon Grove School District adopted a policy which would call for financial or other aid from developers when a subdivision would increase enrollment to the point that school facilities would not be available.

The new county policy will back up the Lemon Grove School District's policy, according to superintendent Bob Sutton.

The new policy will also be of great aid to school districts experiencing rapid growth, such as Santee or Poway.

Free Parking May Be Costly Says Local CHP-ART Officer

Last week we mentioned that an auto left parked on a street must possess three things: a gas cap, a smog device and a current registration tag.

There is one more condition. This applies to all vehicles whether they are motorized or not — and that is the 72 continuous hour parking limit, according to Bob Barrett, CHP officer assigned to the Accident Reduction Team (ART) in Lemon Grove.

Boat trailers, house trailers, dune buggies, mobile homes, campers, trucks and motorcycles are all liable under the 72 hour parking restruction.

The restruction applies to vehicles on any road and the adjacent right-of-way. Frequently streets have curbs, parkways and sidewalks of varying widths but a pretty dependable measurement is the line formed by the utility poles. Usually the right-of-way extends a couple of feet beyond that.

Another test is the answer to who keeps up that part of the property. If the responsibility is other than the owner or tenant, the odds are that it is right-of-way and the 72 hour rule applies.

After 72 hours the beat officer may order storage. It's one of the laws made to keep busy streets open to moving traffic.

Freeway Limit Less

The same is true of freeway parkers except they have but four hours to move it. The officer puts a yellow card on the aerial of cars parked on the freeway. The card serves several purposes. It tells other officers that the necessities have been attended previously by another officer and that he needn't stop. It tells the driver, if he was not present, what the move requirements are. If the vehicle is carded and the driver still needs assistance, he removes the card and an officer will stop.

The officer first attaching the card tears off a stub and turns it in at the CHP office. The next shift is thus informed as to the time element involved.

When the motorist gets his vehicle going, he may throw the card away. The card is not a citation.

This week's question:

For the past several months my brother has been verring into the oncoming traffic lane. He is touchy about the subject when I try to discuss it with him.

What do you think may be causing this recent problem and what can I do about it? He has been having some ear trouble lately.

Answer:

Get the car to a mechanic. If the trouble isn't mechanical, get your brother to a doctor. An ear-eyes, nose and throat man. His problem is either mechanical or medical and not one that patrol officers can help.

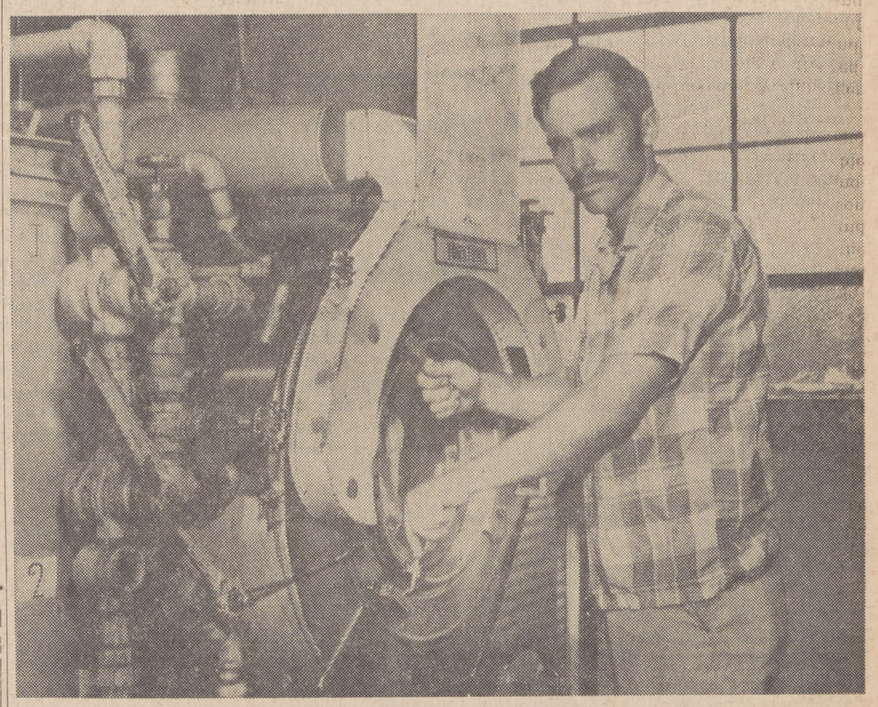
Cranston Praises Nominees

Senator Alan Cranston (D. Calif.) this week praised three of President Nixon's new Cabinet and executive appointments as "excellent nominees" and said their selection "promises good news for California and the nation".

Cranston said that all three appointees — Caspar Weinberger to Health, Education and Welfare; Roy Ash to head the office of Management and Budget, and Elliott Richardson to Defense — are "outstanding men of considerable achievement in private life and government".

As Californians, Weinberger and Ash, will bring to the federal government "understanding of the special problems of our state, its economy and people," Cranston said.



GOODWILL WORKER OF YEAR—San Diego's Goodwill Industries has chosen James Christison to represent them as San Diego's candidate for Goodwill Worker of the year. Governor Reagan will present the award at the Fifth Annual Awards Luncheon in Sacramento January 16.
Christison, a Chula Vista high school graduate and former Southwestern Junior College student, served two years in the hazardous field of demolitions as a Marine in Vietnam. Two months after his discharge he suffered a blood clot in the brain causing paralysis, and underwent immediate surgery. Today, after Goodwill's on-the-job training, and with the help of a leg brace and new medications, he runs a complex dry cleaning machine in the textile department of Goodwill Industries.

Census Bureau Plans Unemployment Survey

Next week the U. S. Bureau of the Census will conduct its regular monthly survey in this area on employment and unemployment, according to C. Michael Long, Director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in Los Angeles. This month, the survey will include questions about any farm work done for pay.

Local households in the survey are part of the 50,000 across the country that have been scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all households.

The survey is taken by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor. It provides monthly information on conditions in the labor force, prime indicator of the economic health of the Nation.
